NOVEMBER 10-16, 1952

If you have never driven a sports car, try one. You'll be surprised. If you have never driven one of the family sedans, try one of these too; you'll be equally surprised. Surprised how the sports car handles in our traffic-clogged highways, surprised how the family sedan provides comfort and economy at a price everyone can afford.

...this is a perfect example of hand craftsmanship in the true British tradition. Built for the discriminating driver and connoisseur, it has been only recently that they have been available on American roads.

Built for the Turin (Italy) Motor Show by one of Italy's finest coachbuilders, this Vignale-bodied Fiat 1400 convertible has taken prizes at every showing in Europe and the U.S. Owned by Mrs. Edmond Herrscher of Los Angeles.
